

The Christmas Joy Offering to be received November 27–December 18

By giving to the Christmas Joy Offering of the Presbyterian Church (USA), you honor God's gift of Jesus Christ by providing assistance to current and retired church workers in their time of need and developing our future leaders at Presbyterian-related schools and colleges that equip communities of color.

The Christmas Joy Offering has been a cherished Presbyterian tradition since the 1930s. The Offering distributes gifts equally to the Assistance Program of the Board of Pensions and to Presbyterian-related schools and colleges equipping communities of color. The Assistance Program provides critical financial support to church workers and their families. Presbyterian-related schools and colleges provide education and leadership development while nurturing racial and ethnic heritage. Samples of Christmas Joy Offering outcomes:

- $1.1 million in gifts from 2021 are being used to provide critical financial support and grants for current and retired Presbyterian church workers in their times of need.
- 26 countries have been represented in the last 25 years at Presbyterian Pan American School.
- 98% of graduates go on to college from the Menaul School, a PC (USA)-related, grades 6–12, college preparatory school in Albuquerque, New Mexico.
- 84% of faculty at Stillman College hold terminal degrees.

Please prayerfully consider providing a Christmas Joy Offering. From November 27 through December 18, go to <https://specialofferings.pcusa.org/offering/christmas-joy/> or donate by check or cash during Sunday worship, making note that this is for the Christmas Joy Offering.

“Glimpse of Graces”

Rev. Forrest “Frosty” Krummel

“For everything there is a season,” the Hebrew Scriptures remind us. “A time for every matter under the sun.”

Autumn is upon us. Trees that once had branches covered with green leaves that rustle in summer breeze turned into a palate of orange, red, and yellow. Monet would have been envious. Soon the leaves will fall and branches will reach toward a gray winter sky like fingers only to be covered once again with the buds of Spring. The cycle of change will then begin again.

Life is full of changes; some welcomed, others not. On November 13 First Presbyterian experienced one of life’s “happy” changes. The Pastor Nominating Committee presented the Rev. Nathan Willard to the congregation to be the congregation’s 23rd senior minister. His tenure will begin shortly after the first of the year. His “call” is the result of many prayers and the diligent faithful efforts of the members of the PNC. It is my prayer that you will have many happy and fruitful years of ministry together. I do not believe that this call is as much of an accident as it is Providential.

God is with us in all of life’s chances. As the psalmist wrote: “God is our refuge and strength, an ever-present help in trouble. Therefore we will not fear, though the earth give way and the mountains fall into the heart of the sea ... the Lord Almighty is with us; the God of Jacob is our fortress.” (Psalm 46, selected)

Whether we are on the mountaintop or in one of life’s darkest Valleys, we are not alone. The One who created us is within us.

Lo, I am with you always ... until the end of the ages, Jesus, the Incarnation of God, promised in his great commission. And that, my friends, is a glimpse of grace.

Organ Project Update

Submitted by Melissa Moll, Organist

Glad tidings of great joy! The organ project to replace the instrument’s electrical systems is moving forward. We’ve signed a contract for the project with Patrick Budelier Pipe Organ Services, and parts are on order. The suppliers are based in Vancouver, Washington, and Lich, Germany. We expect the parts shipments to take a few months to arrive in Iowa City, as the organ building world is experiencing the same supply chain and workforce issues as other sectors of the economy. Once the parts are here, we’ll set a timeline for the onsite work.

On our Phelps Organ, the key action is mechanical, but the stop action (switches) controlling the air to the pipes is electrical, with electronic solid-state registration aids. In the accompanying pictures, you can see some of the components inside the organ case that are currently malfunctioning and will be replaced. These include solenoids or “slider motors” that turn a stop (or sound) on and off, computer cards, and wiring that relays electrical signals.

I am excited to have the opportunity to embark on a journey of mutual ministry with First Presbyterian Church!

In my ministry, I seek always to find the ways the stories of the Bible and our Christian tradition speak to our lives today. Sometimes, the stories of God's people show us a boundless love that challenges us to rise up. Sometimes they reveal the dark cruelties that we wish humanity had moved past. And always they offer us an endless series of questions about how God works in the world and the meaning of Christ's life, death, and resurrection. By incorporating these questions into our lives, we can find new paths of wonder about God, about one another, and about the people we pass in the street. That wonder can then form the basis for deep and meaningful relationships across generational, cultural, and institutional boundaries.

PASTOR NATHAN WILLARD

Background

Among other things, I'm a community organizer, a seeker of reconciliation, a lover of both Welsh hymnody and the Iona Community, and a firm believer that children should be seen and heard, especially in church. I worked for software and networking companies in New England and the UK for seven years before discerning a call to ministry, and graduated from Harvard Divinity School in 2010. For the next three years, I spent time as a father, a middle school wrestling referee, a community band trombone player, and (much to the amusement of all my classmates) a Cooperative Baptist Campus Minister in Cullowhee, North Carolina (an hour west of Montreat!), before being called to Ankeny and my ministry to Ankeny United Church of Christ and the broader community. In Ankeny, I was proud to lead the church when it became the first LGBTQ+-affirming church in Ankeny, a founding member of A Mid-Iowa Organizing Strategy's Ankeny cluster of churches, a lead sponsor of the first Ankeny Juneteenth celebration, and the supplier of thousands of pounds of fresh produce to local food pantries every year.

Since Divinity school, I've pursued training in pastoral counseling at the Des Moines Pastoral Counseling Center, in relational organizing with the Industrial Areas Foundation, in antiracism work from a variety of sources, and, in preparation for sabbatical stays on organic farms in France, in gardening through Iowa State's Extension Office. This year, I am one of the inaugural fellows at United Theological Seminary's Leadership Center for Social Justice. As an ordained minister in the United Church of Christ, I have also been busy receiving regular briefings in Presbyterian history and polity from my many Presbyterian friends around the country.

Family life

My spouse, Dr. Elizabeth Yale is an Assistant Professor at the University of Iowa with a joint appointment in the Department of History and the Center for the Book. Beth and I met in the trombone section of the Yale Precision Marching Band, and so I remain an unabashed low brass partisan, though my 13 year-old daughter Martha plays french horn and her 10 year-old brother Teddy plays alto saxophone, among many other activities and interests.

Camp Wyoming Update

Camp Wyoming (CW), a mission of the Presbytery of East Iowa, is a Christian summer camp and year-round retreat center located in Jones County, Iowa. Founded in 1960, CW's vision is to offer transformative experiences that equip people of all ages for a journey of faith. A variety of programs are provided, including a popular summer camp, winter camps, youth retreats, and day events. CW also rents its site and facilities to groups for retreats. For more details and how to support CW, go to <https://campwyoming.net/about/>.

2022 afforded a return to more traditional summer camp life, with 566 campers from 5 countries, 11 states, and 145 churches served via age-grouped sessions of various lengths and themes. This summer, campers planted 6,300 tree seedlings, recited 3,380 Bible memory verses, and took 2,478 trips down the slip 'n slide. Pictured below are two of FPC's 2022 high school graduates, brothers Ben and Charlie Faden, who enjoyed their roles as camp counselors, and our only camper this year, Vivian Adams.

Vivian shared this testimony about camp: "Camp Wyoming felt like a family the minute I got there. Everybody included me and I felt at home there. Camp Wyoming had all these new opportunities, and it felt amazing to be there."

In addition to CW's tiered registration fee, FPC has in past years provided financial support to help children attend this summer camp. We hope to resume this support next year. CW is in the process of developing new strategic and master site plans. A forester was hired to oversee a management plan for the future of the camp's forest. A fund-raising campaign is currently underway to update camp cabins with new siding, new flooring, and other features.

Session-Supported Catholic Worker House Grant Funded

Iowa City's Catholic Worker House (CWH) was recently notified by the Presbyterian Hunger Program that the grant application from Escucha Mi Voz Iowa, an immigrant-led Congregation-Based Community Organization of the CWH, had been approved. The $8,000 in funding has an option for a two-year renewal. In May, Session provided a letter of support for this grant.

Escucha Mi Voz Iowa helps oversee two CWH facilities, including the one in Iowa City at 1414 Sycamore St., for immigrants and refugees to live for up to two years while they rebuild their lives in Iowa. The houses currently provide living quarters for two dozen immigrants and refugees, mostly single parents and children, all working to establish independence. Related support includes connecting them with legal, educational, and other support and services.

In recent years, FPC's Reconciliation Ministry has donated money and encouraged volunteers to cook, serve meals, and interact with immigrants and refugees at the CWH. As part of our Kindness Campaign, on 9/24, FPC volunteers prepared and served the afternoon meal at the CWH.

Warm Winter Wear Distribution

The Consultation of Religious Communities, of which FPC is a member, gave away 1867 coats from Wednesday, 10/19, through Friday, 10/21. This consisted of 1325 coats for children (sizes 3 month–size 18, boys and girls) and 542 coats for adults (sizes S–XXXL, men and women). All scarves, boots, and gloves were given away. We had a total of more than 300 family representatives who attended, and many of the individuals were shopping for a minimum of 8 people.

Unfortunately, we had to contact those who had hoped to shop on Saturday because we were all out of popular clothes. Most of our items were actually gone by Thursday afternoon. We were unable to meet the needs of at least 95 children from sizes 10 - 18, especially 14/16/18 (including both boys and girls). Adult coats were in demand, and we could have used many more coats of all sizes. Donations were received from a large number of faith communities and from KCJJ's Coats for Kids.

28 brand new coats for children, sizes 2 and 3 (and a couple size 4/5), and the few remaining hats were given to the Catholic Worker House, which supports many immigrant families.

Thank you to the more than 80 volunteers who sorted and organized clothing and served as shopper assistants. This help was invaluable. Many individuals from a range of faith communities signed up to assist, and some service organizations were represented among the volunteers. Thank you so much for participating in the 2022 Warm Winter Wear Distribution!

The days are shorter, the nights are longer, the temps are colder, and the holidays are around the corner.

We've been invited by Saint Andrew Presbyterian Church to the BEST WEEK EVER!

The dates are June 11-17, 2023.

During this week, we'll be at Camp Stronghold with other middle schoolers from all over the Presbytery; we'll learn about God, have a lot of fun, and do mission work together. This is a great opportunity to get to know God, yourself, and our PC(USA) siblings in the area! Please connect with Anna at Anna.Sheetz@firstpreswac.org for more info!

(Total trip cost is $300-with the first deposit of $50 due December 18 .)

Summer 2023 Intergenerational Trip

This summer, FPC is headed to Nashville on an Intergenerational Mission Trip.

High Schoolers, College Students, and Adults are invited to travel to a "Housing First" city to explore the impacts of homelessness. Check this out:

Nashville, Tennessee, "Music City, USA," has a booming economy with an influx of industry and job opportunities. When it comes to housing, it is a seller's market. Housing costs continue to skyrocket, land values are at a premium, and gentrification is rampant throughout the city. Nashville, like many cities across our country, is facing an affordable housing crisis; homelessness is at an all-time high. Groups spend the week in Nashville exploring homelessness and the critical need for housing justice. Hands-on opportunities include serving with several area non-profits working to shelter, permanently house, and establish new foundations with those who are unhoused. Your week also includes a primer on legislation and housing movements that have marginalized communities throughout the city. Prepare to play, learn, grow, give, and maybe even write a new song—it is Music City after all!

The dates are July 15-23, 2023.

A $100 deposit is due December 18, 2022, to secure your spot.

Please connect with Anna at Ann.sheetz@firstpreswac.org for more information.

A Big Thank You! from the Stewardship Committee

~Nancy Gardner

It's time to say, "Thank you!" Thank you to those who have sent in their pledges during this year's stewardship campaign. Your generosity will provide for the work of the church, support Christian education for young and old, and maintain our beautiful facilities for the coming year. To date, we have received 42% of congregational pledges. This is an excellent start, which is good ... but, it's easy to see it is not enough.

The Stewardship Committee has set a goal of hearing from all members of the church. If you can contribute, please do; and if you are unable to at this time, please contact the church office or send a note. This information will allow Session to determine the budget for 2023. The programs that can be offered, what worship experiences can take place, and what we commit to God's work in the world will depend on the pledges received.

Yes, a time to say, "Thank you!", and a time to remind ourselves of all the good that takes place when we pledge to support God's work through the church.
